

On This Side Of The Sun

By Phat

Last week I sent forth an urgent appeal. . . . Would the gentleman who so cleverly took one of my columns and illustrated it in color please come into the office so that I could thank him personally? . . . The "gentleman" did—and is my face red! . . . The "gentleman" turned out to be Tess J. Meyers, a comely young lady, that is. . . . She works in Doc James Potter's office. . . . In Palm Springs anything can—and everything does—happen.

THE MAIL this week brought a clever letter from a former Villager, now sojourning at the Beach. "In re your current campaigns for benches on the Drive and for a Siesta hour—why not combine the two. Put couches, instead of benches, on the Drive. Then we could sleep and also have places to sit." . . . On the same subject comes a note signed "Angry Mother." Said the irked mama: "What do they mean 'noisy brats'? What is the city doing to entertain the youngsters and keep them out of mischief? Put back the benches, bolt 'em down, and the kids won't be all over the sidewalk and in everyone's hair."

THE VILLAGE is really a wonderful place—but it has its drawbacks. Sat next to a navy officer, four stripes on his sleeve, on the F. S. P. Sunset coming out of Los Angeles the other day. (The "F" stands for friendly. It's too long to write.) Said he: "I love Palm Springs but it has gained for me a reputation as a liar. I tell people they plant seed on Monday and on Thursday mow their lawns." . . . Well, he didn't stretch it much. Lawns do grow fast here. . . . R. H. Mann presents a bill on Monday for sowing the lawn and on the next Monday, a bill for mowing it.

THE DESERT SUN, pardon the bragging, gets around. Mrs. John Hornmel met some people during a stop-over in Minneapolis. They were from South Africa. When she mentioned she was from Palm Springs they said: "Oh, yes. We know about Palm Springs. Down in South Africa we read 'The Desert Sun'." . . . Reminds me, I must have some Spam for breakfast. . . . Mrs. G sent me to the market the other day with a list of things to get. I came back empty-handed. The answer was in slang: "No soap."

NEEDED in the Village right now and immediately, said Mrs. Caroline Hicks, is milk delivery. There is none to private homes. Why? She asks. "Forget the Siesta and the benches and hammer on the great need for milk delivery here," she said. There it is, let's have milk delivery to the homes. . . . They are painting new lines on the streets, along the curbs, to guide motorists. Now all that is needed, if for motorists to adopt a new line, and observe the lines. . . .

MUSIC this week centers around an announcement I heard on the radio Tuesday night. I was listening to a hotel dance band and the announcer said: "The next series of numbers includes something old and something new. The numbers are Take It Easy, Dancing in the Dark, It's Wonderful, Doing What Comes Naturally." . . . and "To Each His Own" is still No. 1 and I wonder what happened to "I Didn't Know Enough About You." That's one I predicted and it didn't get there.

INSULTS were frequent this week. "What happened last Friday, it was the 15th and I was looking forward to getting along without you and reading Mrs. G's clever column and instead of that, the text of most conversations. Well, I'll lay off one of these weeks soon and let her take over. . . . This is only the third week in September, but the Village is busier than it was in January and February last year. What's the coming January and February going to be like?"

THE NEWS would make a pessimist out of anyone these days. Checking over the front page of a Los Angeles daily one day this week the headlines in four instances recounted gory accidents, in two, strikes would continue to hold up production and the prize headline was: "One marriage out of three goes on rocks, statistics show." And I, that is, we, celebrated our 29th anniversary this week. Must be one of the two that didn't. . . . Henry A. Wallace, who prospered because of Iowa corn, is out of the cabinet, says word this morning. Met him once and envied the great amount of hair he sprouts.

FIRE PREVENTION week comes up next month but Bill Leonosio, fire chief, told me to shut up about it. "Everytime you quote me and tell people to be careful about fires, there's a bad one the next week. You're a jinx." Reminds me that people use to tell me not to brag about the fine weather. Everytime I did, it turned out bad the next few days. Must be my fatal charm. . . . And, by the way, check your registration. Be eligible to vote in November. The way things are shaping up, it's the duty of every citizen to take a hand in picking the men who are going to do the law-making these coming years. . . . Ah, the end of the page.

Desert Sun Opens Port To Flyers

U. S. Engineers Get Local Picture and Ruling Is Modified

By BILL RASHALL

The Desert Sun rubbed its nose into a little governmental red-tape last Wednesday afternoon and by the time it had finished shooting some questions in the direction of the U. S. engineers via long distance telephone, the haze had lifted some and promises to stay so, until the subject of the "beef" the local airport is finally disposed of.

The pointed questions all centered around why the U. S. engineers in charge of the local airport, had barred civilian fliers from using the 7,000 foot landing strips. And as a result, private fliers, under certain conditions, may or may not land.

EXPLANATION of the landing qualifications were given by two representatives of the U. S. Engineer's office who came to Palm Springs yesterday in response to The Sun's questions. If a pilot wishes to land his private airplane on the local field he is expected to telephone TUCKER 1311, extension 211, for permission and instructions. Or he may call in person at 621 South Hope street, Los Angeles, the sub-office for the instructions.

INDIGNATION FLARED when the Desert Sun learned that two or three private fliers had unwittingly landed their small craft at the field and were immediately pounced upon by guards who ordered the aviators and their machines to take off immediately. One pilot, either short of gasoline or for some other reason, was forced to take off, to land a few minutes later, on a new subdivision north of town, where he had to do some tall explaining to the local police department.

QUESTIONS centered around the word WHY. The long landing strips are heavily re-enforced with plenty of cement capable of sustaining the weight of the heaviest aircraft in the world—most civilian pilots use ships less than one quarter that weight. Barring private fliers could not be for reasons of security because nothing remains at the field now except empty buildings and despite the housing shortage no one was capable of putting one under his arm and walking away.

Mentally groping for a logical reason, the only other place to find the answers was by calling the U. S. Engineers in Los Angeles and talking to the head man. Two calls were made before proper satisfaction was gained and that was still in doubt.

PONTIFICAL EXPLANATION was given during the first call to the office of Col. Robert C. Hunter. Unruffled he declared

Parking

Action Taken by Council Committee

Concrete steps to solve the parking problem were taken this week by the city council's public safety committee of which Charles Farrell is chairman, and Armand Turonnet and John Archibald, co-members.

Letters were written to Mrs. Austin G. McManus, owner of property on west Amado road, Phil Goldstone, owner of property on Indian avenue and Tahquitz, and Howard Perdue, local Indian agent, relative to possibility of purchase or lease of lands by the city for municipal parking lots.

All properties are in strategic locations, adjacent to the downtown shopping area. The reservation property sought is at Andreas and Indian avenue.

OPA Control Over Rents Lifted Here

Chamber of Commerce Receives Word of Partial Decontrol

Rent control this week was removed by the OPA from all winter accommodation rentals in Palm Springs.

The far-reaching order, affecting all winter resorts in the country, provided that any property that has not been rented between June 1, and Oct. 1, 1946, shall be free of rent control between Oct. 1, 1946 and May 31, 1947, according to provisions of the de-control announcement received by the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce.

NOT AFFECTED by the order were all other properties, including hotels and apartment courts which operated during the past summer and all year-around rentals, leaving them under the same OPA rent ceilings as previously, the order was interpreted to mean. This division was drawn by the OPA to prevent rises in rentals on homes, small apartments and other quarters rented to employed persons of Palm Springs.

Announcement of the de-control measure came several days after an advance confidential report of its issuance was furnished the chamber of commerce by William Robinson, manager of the California Hotel association, who has worked tirelessly for 16 months to obtain the ruling freeing the winter resort properties. Removal of the restrictions on Catalina Island properties upon their return to civilian hands after the virtual militarization of the island during the war, set the

"To Each His Own" Clean Up Theme

Palm Springs clean-up campaign was set to music this week by Grant Wood of The Sun staff. "To Each His Own," he said. "That's the top tune and cleaning up the Village seems to be the top issue. If every Villager would look after his own property, whether it's a store or a home or a hotel or apartment house—with the city looking after public property, it wouldn't be long before the city would be a clean place."

Cooler Here

Village Delightful, Los Angeles Hot

It was cooler in Palm Springs Wednesday than it was in Los Angeles, no fooling. Los Angeles talked about its hottest day of the year—97. Here it was 95 with a cooling breeze tempering the sunshine. And the nights!

Anyway, here are the figures for the week:

Sept. 13	113	72
Sept. 14	111	74
Sept. 15	104	71

Palm Springs Hits High Building Spot

Palm Springs was eighth in southern California building for the first eight months of 1946 and 15th in the southland for the month of August, according to figures received by P. M. Swart, deputy public works official, today.

The Village, with its six million dollars worth of building between Jan. 1 and Aug. 31, was ahead of many cities many times its size.

In home building, Palm Springs was near the top in southern California.

Store Fire Loss Heavy

Six Firms Lose In Blaze Sweeping Indian Store Block

Fire which swept through the building block known as the Indian Store at Andreas road and Indian avenue early last Saturday morning gutted most of the store rooms and did damage estimated in excess of $50,000.

Asserted looting which followed the blaze Saturday night was under investigation by Police Chief G. A. Kettman and District Attorney John Neblett today and either civil or criminal action may follow.

ORIGIN of the blaze was undetermined by Fire Chief Bill Leonosio following a week of study.

The building, which is part of the Marcos Pete estate administered by Benton E. Beckley, was of frame construction and was built about 18 years ago. Out of business as a result of the conflagration were six local merchants who rented store space in the building. The only tenants whose places remained untouched were the Greyhound Bus depot, and the Benton E. Beckley real estate office.

TWO INJURIES resulted in the fire. Otto L. Greenwood, operator of the Village Electric shop, was overcome by smoke while rescuing some of his equipment and was hospitalized at the Community hospital for 24 hours. An unidentified Indian boy was cut by broken glass.

Greenwood was reported to have saved a portion of his wares but a greater amount running into several thousand dollars was lost to the flames. He was also reported to have lost to loot.

START of the blaze may have been to the rear of the feed, seed and fuel store owned by Mrs. See STORE FIRE, Page 5

At Least One Item Will Be Cheaper

If you put an eight cent stamp on your airmail letter after October 1, you'll be gyping yourself out of three cents. The new five cent postage rate for air-bourne mail goes into effect on that day. Merritt Williams, assistant postmaster announced that those who find themselves with a flock of eight-cent airmail stamps October 1, may take them down to the post office where they will be exchanged for other stamps of varying denominations.

The adjustment in the price downward of airmail occurred, it is reported, by the tremendous increase in air mail business. R. M. Gorham, postmaster, said before leaving on a vacation trip to Georgia.

Community Institution Given Aid

Charge Cut From $1950 Monthly to One Dollar a Year

All fears of a rift between the Community Hospital association and government agencies over the demand that the hospital pay $1950 a month rent for the use of Ward B were dispelled late Thursday afternoon, when word was received that the fee had been knocked down to $1 per year.

Ward B situated on Torney General hospital grounds has been used by the Community Hospital association since last April pending final arrangements as to the fee the government would charge for its use. When the real estate division of War Assets set the figure at $1950 two months ago with a demand that payment be made retroactive to April, officers and members of the Community Hospital association were thrown into consternation.

HURRIED telephone calls were made to state senators in Washington asking for assistance in having the figure reduced. Then Edward R. Bacon, winter resident and now in San Francisco, picked up a copy of The Desert Sun and he, too, immediately reached for a telephone to call Judge Eugene E. Theriault to ask if he could be of assistance. He was instantly assured that he could be and he was.

Late this week The Desert Sun learned that the Judge was in receipt of a letter from the corps of engineers in Los Angeles. The letter said that that agency had been ordered to negotiate a new lease with the Palm Springs Community Hospital association on a NOMINAL rental.

THIS NOMINAL RENTAL it was officially learned will be set at $1 per year with a five year lease. The judge and other members of the Hospital association were jubilant at the same time learned that it was Edward R. Bacon and his good friend Frank E. Marsh in Washington who were instrumental in having the rental reduced to the $1 figure.

Said the happy Judge Eugene E. Theriault, who by the way is president of the hospital association:

"I wish to express for the hospital association the deep and sincere appreciation for the fine work done by Mr. Bacon and his friend Frank E. Marsh in obtaining this reduction in the rent." The judge said many other fine things about Bacon but there is not room in which to print them.

THE DESERT SUN vitally interested in the maintenance and operation of a hospital here called Bacon via long distance to express its thanks to him personally. Bacon who has been tireless in his work as a member of the Community Hospital association attempted most gracefully to lessen the importance of See HOSPITAL, Page 5

Hair Cuts, $1.50, Shaves $1, Due Soon

The high cost of living may come to a head October 1. In fact, to many heads.

Master barbers of Palm Springs are this week considering joining with other Master Barbers in southern California and hiking the cost of hair cuts to $1.50 per copy and shaves to an even buck on the first day of the coming month.

At present, hair cuts cost $1 flat (and that doesn't mean flat-tops) and shaves are 75 cents, six bits, that is, per going over. The sad part of that is, according to one Villager, that the desert climate seems so conducive to accelerating hirsute growth. In simple words, the beard and the top hair grow faster here.

Because of libel laws, the writer refrains from mentioning several Villagers who could refute that theory. Their tops gleam in the sunshine.

Records Set at City's Schools Municipal Pool Set Record on Opening Day

The municipal pool on the Frank W. Cutler estate, Merito place, closed its third year there last Sunday with one of the most active summers recorded.

Attendance figures showed almost a 50 per cent increase over the summer of 1945, according to Police Chief G. A. Kettmann, whose force supervised the activities there this year.

YOUNGSTERS topped the list with 1490 registered this year, adults were second with 1007 diving into the pool and young men and women of high school age were third with an attendance record of 606.

Total attendance for the past summer was 3103 as compared with a total of 2195 in the summer of 1945. The municipal pool, made possible for the third year through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Cutler, was open from June 29 to Sept. 15.

IN CHARGE during the summer were Sgt. Stan Ehler, Police Chief and Bill Lux under supervision of the police department.

Fire Chief Bill Leonosio and his staff also deserve great credit for the work they did in preparing the pool for the summer's operations.

Enrollment at Palm Springs schools Monday of this week set a new record with Palm Springs high school showing a 30 per cent increase over any previously recorded opening day enrollment and the Desert School district within 50 of the highest mark set last year, on its opening day.

At the high school, 265 students enrolled on Monday. In the five schools of the Desert district, 682 were enrolled on Monday.

INDICATIVE of the great growth of the Village are the figures revealed by Miss Katherine Finch, superintendent of the Desert district. At the peak of the last school year, in the middle of the season, the enrollment in the five schools there was 733, just 250 more than the opening day enrollment of 483.

This year's opening day enrollment of 682 is only 50 less than the peak of last year.

GRADUATES at Palm Springs high will set a record this year as the class of '47 is 20 students larger than any previous senior class. Dr. E. E. Oertel, principal of Palm Springs high, estimates See SCHOOLS OPEN, Page 8

September 26 Is the Last Day

By ETHEL GILLET WHITEHORN

The United States of America is a government of the people, by the people and for the people. Consequently, a man, in order to be elected President must receive the official recognition of the people. The same is true of the representatives who serve us in our national, state and local governments. The recognition of the people is expressed in votes, and the character of our government is largely what the voters make it. Every voter is a part of the government and he should cherish and protect his right to participate in its elections.

Thursday, September 26, is the last day of registration. Every citizen who has reached the age of 21, should register—and do it now. Citizenship is a serious responsibility. Only an alert citizenry can maintain our form of government and keep it free. Indifference on the part of citizens who do not exercise their voting privileges is the greatest danger that our Nation faces today. Year after year—since 1933—we have seen American liberties slip from us, one by one. The people can retrieve each and every one of them next November. The formula is simple—REGISTER before September 26. VOTE on November 5.

ment in the House of Representatives on the day of adjournment: "Ask any returned serviceman the value of each person contributing his share and doing his own part in an outlined program of action. A policy of indifference can no more win the peace than it could have won the war. The parents, wives, and sweethearts of veterans will remember that our servicemen fought for the freedoms which we enjoy, and I hope that they will impress upon their friends and neighbors that the perpetuation of our Republic depends upon a wide-awake and vigilant electorate."

Here, in this 22nd Congressional district, the voters will be given the opportunity to return John Phillips to the House of Representatives with a handsome majority. He missed winning in the primary election by a handful of votes, but he won't miss in the final election.

THE VOTERS of California will not be blinded by the CIO-PAC caperings of the James Roosevelt-Will Rogers Jr. political machine which is moving into the hi-ways and by-ways of this state in an effort to defeat Senator William F. Knowland.

The voters of California are mindful of the importance of strengthening Governor Warren's administration. They know that Judge Goodwin Knight is the logical candidate for lieutenant governor, and that Fred Howser, as attorney general, will serve the people of California with that same steady competence which has won for him so many friends.

The results in primaries which have taken place this year show an alarming negligence on the part of hundreds of thousands of American citizens in their failure to go to the polls and vote.

Two Teams Tied At Top of Night Loop in 2nd Week

The Boy's club and the Palm Springs Transfer were riding the top of the new nightball league today as result of games in the past week with two victories out of two starts each.

The Lions club also had a perfect record with a victory in its only game played.

TREMENDOUS scores marked games this week. On Friday night the Transfer team ran up a football score against the All-Stars winning 35 to 10. They banged out 23 hits and with 14 errors by the Stars, accumulated their 35 runs. The Stars got ten hits and these with one Transfer error, marked up ten runs.

Tuesday night the R. H. Grant company turned on the heat to turn 28 hits and 5 Star errors into 30 runs, winning 30 to 7, another gridiron score. The Grant team stacked five errors against five Star hits to allow their opponents seven runs.

BIG GAME of the week came Wednesday night when Walle, Camplan and Smith dropped a close one to the Transfer outfit, 8 to 4. The Transfer boys mixed nine hits with five errors by the construction gang to score eight times. Walle Camplan and Smith team, hit safely seven times, which with two Transfer bobbles, chalked up four runs. Thrills of the game came when Ferd Krenwinkle was tossed out at the Plate trying to stretch a three-bagger into a home-run, when Jim Touri did smack a homer with one on and when Herb Esbitt, trying to beat out an infield hit, went into the casualty class at first base.

Hospital Arena Moved to Club for Boys Club Activity

Plans for amateur boxing bouts at the Field Club were speeded this week, according to Frank Partridge, sponsor of the Boy's club who said that the boxing arena, which has done duty at the Torney General hospital gymnasium, has been moved to a location on the grounds there.

R. P. Shea, contractor, his sons, Richard and Reeford, Charles Sabin, truck driver, and Frank Partridge and son, Jimmy, moved the arena to the Field Club site.

Carpenters, on construction jobs here, set it up free of cost. So now all that remains is parents' consent and medical examination to see if the boys are fit for the art of self defense and amateur bouts will be on.

Harry Haan Seeks Permit to Install Night Patrol Here

Harry Haan, former member of the Palm Springs police department may in the near future, operate a night watchman's patrol of the business section of Palm Springs.

Fortified with a list of merchants names whom Haan said approved of his proposition, he appeared before the city council last Wednesday night to plead his own case that permission be granted him to conduct nightly patrol. Although no action was taken by the city fathers on Haan's oral plea, Mayor Hyde suggested that the applicant make a formal application in writing which in turn would be acted upon by the safety committee of the city council.

PATROL WOULD assist the police department immeasurably, Haan said, pointing out that officers riding in radio equipped automobiles cannot leave their machines for more than 15 minutes at one time. Haan's patrol on foot not having to answer radio summons and conducting the nightly inspection could do a more thorough job of protection against burglary, fire, and sundry other untoward occurrences.

Listeners Will Discuss Comedy On Sunday Night

Comedy programs come up for discussion next Sunday night when station KCMJ airs the third in its successful series of programs, "Speak Up Listener," with a duo of well known Villagers again representing the listener.

Wall Spalding, chairman of Los Compadres and general chairman of Western Week along with Frank Partridge, director of the Boys' club of Palm Springs will compete with the famous husband-and-wife team, Ozzie and Harriet.

Ozzie and Harriet, whose last name is Nelson, are well known to radio listeners in this area because of their own program on KCMJ and CBS every Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. They have appeared on various comedy and musical programs during their many years in radio. They'll come before the KCMJ microphone well equipped to answer the many comments and questions that Frank and Wall will undoubtedly hurl their way.

The program will again be aired from the Hollywood CBS studios over special wire to KCMJ and will be heard at nine o'clock next Sunday night. Both Frank Partridge and Wall Spalding will be guests of KCMJ co-owners Dick Joy and Don McBain at a pre-broadcast dinner at one of Hollywood's more famous eateries.

Mrs. Visel Tours Midwest, Finds No Shortages of Food

Holly Lash Visel and sons, Nelson and Jon, left their Balboa Island home early in July to spend the summer in the Midwest. Going by way of Yellowstone National Park and the Shoshone country to Iowa, where the family enjoyed farm life and no shortage of food.

From there they visited Mrs. Faye Robinson, a Palm Springs resident, in Maryville, Missouri. Also, Mrs. Visel carried on with her musical interests in Des Moines and Chicago. Part of the time coaching at Drake University and singing in various communities.

IN CHICAGO she attended a session of "The Choral Conductors Seminar" at Northwestern University, visited the major music companies and heard a concert at Ravinia's famous Music Festival.

The rest of the summer Mrs. Visel spent in planning and arranging music for the Community Church Choirs and the Palm Springs Trio.

Everything is in readiness to begin chorus rehearsals at the Community church on Thursday night, September 26, at 7:30 p.m. All who enjoy singing, young and old, men and women, are invited to come.

WAR OVER, there will be a mixed adult group this year appearing for morning services, beside the two youth choirs composed of boys meeting on Wednesdays at 3:30 and girls meeting on Thursdays at 3:30 respectively.

Marcia Connally, speech student at Iowa University at Iowa City, Iowa, returned to California with the Visels and will spend part of the winter in Palm Springs.

Miss Connally is a tennis enthusiastic and enjoys outdoor life besides being interested in the arts.

NAA Members To Go To L.A. Gathering

Glad To Be Back

An ex-G.I. observed the way "the other half" lives in his travels around the world. Ex-Sergeant Wm. T. Garvey saw what any G.I. could have seen who passed through the cities of the Orient en route to "the bush"—India's beggars; cows ambling nonchalantly along sidewalks; Mohammedans turning to Mecca; the painted marks of religion and caste; the roadside vendors of insect-ridden cheese and fruit, shoe laces and worthless trinkets; the haggling over prices of wares; the smells; scarcity of food of any sort; the ragged thousands sleeping the clock around on the floor in any public building or railway station; clothing beaten to shreds on flat rocks in lieu of washing; thousands of staggering skeletons waiting for something to eat.

It is no mystery to him why living standards are so low in these countries. Methods employed in gaining a livelihood in such countries are still so primitive that men can barely produce enough to keep alive, whereas in America, capital has built up great industries which make the United States a land of luxuries. Few, indeed, are the locations outside America where people take for granted automobiles, radios, refrigerators, bathtubs, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, sewing machines, telephones, electricity, gas, fresh running water and modern sewage disposal.

India can't duplicate what we have in America overnight, "because capitalism requires saving. To enjoy greater comforts at a later date," the soldier explains, "we must forego some of the satisfactions of the present. By pooling our savings with others we can purchase production equipment beyond our means as individuals, and produce consumer goods cheaply and in quantity. In India capitalism is just in the beginning.

"I like our American system. I like my radio and electric refrigerator, an extra suit of clothes, and meat on the table. I was never impressed by the street-corner propagandist who was always trying to prove that the 'capitalists' were oppressors grinding a heel on the neck of downtrodden common people. There was a time when I used to think they didn't know what they were talking about. Now I know! Of course there are abuses of the capitalistic system, but I've seen how 'the other half' lives. I'm back home and glad of it. I like it here."

Villa Hermosa to Be Open Soon for Winter Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Fulton were proud this week as they took friends through their new Villa Hermosa apartments at 155 Hermosa place.

The newest spot in town to entertain visitors is almost ready and will be open to the public early next month. Cleverly planned by Architect Albert Frey, the Villa Hermosa provides amply comfortable living room inside and individual outdoor space for each apartment.

Interior decorations, chosen by Mrs. Fulton, add to the charm of the place.

Gardeners are now busy on all sides of the building and in the patio, to make the grounds a mass of flowers and green lawn. The swimming pool will be ready soon with colorful tile arriving on the grounds.

Requests for reservations are already coming in and the Villa Hermosa will be one of the Village spots within a few days.

No Protests On Licenses

City council in session last Wednesday night passed without protest the following applications: Herman Reich, 441 South Palm Canyon drive, off sale beer and wine; Palm Springs Tennis Club incorporated, on sale beer and wine, seasonal and on sale distilled spirits, seasonal; transfer of off sale license from Merrill Crockett and Herman N. Ellman to Juanita and Merrill Crockett, 201 North Palm Canyon drive; transfer of off sale license of Leo Baker and Sam L. Stuart from the Palm Springs Plaza market to 189 South Palm Canyon drive, and the application for nightly dancing of Kurtz-Bolenback, 185 east Andreas road, the Zanzibar.

Leaders Needed

Girl Scout Council To Meet Wednesday

Palm Springs Girl Scout council of which Mrs. A. E. Bailey is commissioner, will hold its first meeting of the fall next Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Little Scout house.

Main problem of the council at present is the enlistment of leaders for the Girl Scout troops here and of Brownie troops.

All women interested in Girl Scout work and who want to volunteer as leaders of troops this season are asked to be present at the meeting.

Accidents have replaced any single infectious disease as the prime killer of children and youth after infancy. They take a yearly toll of almost 20,000 boys and girls under 20 years of age. This fact is revealed in a study made by the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor. The study also discloses that by far the most important cause of accident death to older children is automobile deaths. Drowning is next.

Contract for Big Pipeline North of Village is Signed

Contract for installation of the California portion of the Texas-California natural gas pipeline was awarded yesterday by Southern California and Southern Counties Gas companies to H. C. Price Co. This construction involves an expenditure of approximately $3,750,000.

The contract calls for the installation of 214 miles of 30-inch high pressure natural gas transmission line between Blythe and Santa Fe Springs, the largest high pressure pipeline of its kind in the history of the natural gas industry. H. C. Price Co., a California corporation with offices in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Bartlesville, Oklahoma, participated in the building of both the Big Inch and Big Little Inch oil lines constructed during the war from Texas to the Eastern Seaboard. H. C. Price, president of the corporation, who was in Los Angeles Wednesday to sign the contract, predicted that this line, in view of its comparative size, will undoubtedly be known as the "Biggest Inch."

Price states that preliminary work will be started early in October and actual construction will be under way by the first of the year. The line is scheduled for completion in seven months after actual construction is started.

It is estimated that upwards of a thousand men will be engaged in the field construction, most of whom will be recruited from local sources.

The sixty-thousand tons of pipe required for this portion of the line is now being fabricated in Los Angeles by Consolidated Steel Corp. Ltd.

The California line is part of a 1200-mile pipeline which will bring gas from West Texas and New Mexico to Southern California and it is designed to augment natural gas supplies from California sources. The El Paso Natural Gas company, which will build and operate the line from Texas to the California border, has work already under way and its construction program is being coordinated with that of the California companies.

VANGUARD of the host of celebrities that annually visit Palm Springs was Jack Benny, famed of screen and radio, who checked in at the Lone Palm early this week for several days rest. Benny said he expects to do several broadcasts from the Village sometime in January or February. He will start on his weekly radio program Sunday, September 29. Greeting him at the entrance to the Lone Palm is Mrs. Esther McGee, manager, and tiny Mary Lou Corwin of Palm Springs. (Gayle Studio Sun photo.)

Jack Benny Among First of Celebs In Village To Absorb Desert Sunshine

Jack Benny, star of stage, screen and radio, says Rochester was an early harbinger of what the coming season portends when he checked in at the Lone Palm early this week for several days of sunshine and rest.

"I like Palm Springs," vouchsafed the film and stage comedian. Mary Livingstone and I intend to come down here periodically during the season to rest and sop up some of your winter sunshine."

Benny added that he expects to do two or three broadcasts from the Village sometime in January or February. His wife did not accompany him on his visit this week. The actor seems to have lost some weight since his last appearance here last season. He said that his radio show will go on the air again Sunday, September 29.

Greeting the famous celebrity was Mrs. Esther McGee, who will manage the swanky hostelry during the forthcoming season.

She announced that the dining room of the cottage hotel opened for business last Sunday as did the bar. Tropical drinks will be featured in the latter department, Mrs. McGee declared.

Assisting Mrs. McGee in the operation of the hotel will be: Edith Window, charge of housekeeping; Eleanor Eubanks, Jacqueline Post and Mary Jo Lowe Store Fire . . .

Irene Rupp. She suffered a loss of $5,000 or more in supplies.

Oscar Mandinack, owner of the Palm Springs Plumbing company was reported to have sustained a loss of at least $10,000 in hard-to-get plumbing supplies with only a part of this loss covered by insurance.

The Malt Shop which occupied the corner store room was completely destroyed and the losses here will also run into several thousand dollars. G. R. Smalley, owner of this business, was only partially covered by insurance.

TROUBLE was given firemen by a lot of cotton, used for insulation purposes, stored in one of the rooms of the Desert Construction company. It smoldered for some time and was the cause for two subsequent alarms, one Saturday night and one Tuesday.

Another establishment that was rubbed out of business by the hungry flames was the Depot Market. Adding a touch of irony to the story, Albert Brown, proprietor of the grocery had just completed restocking the shelves with food for the coming season. It is estimated that the loss of fixtures and groceries at this market must have run into several thousand dollars, too.

The fire department received the alarm at 8:30 Saturday morning and were unable to leave the scene until 12 noon, when every vestige of smoke and flame had been extinguished. Although the building is 18 or more years old, at present costs of construction, the loss would run from $20,000 to $30,000.

"Look," he said, "pay all the credit to my friend Frank E. Marsh. It was he who did all of the work."

The comment however was that without Bacon's interest, the Community Hospital association would not have had the service of his good friend Marsh and the Villagers interested in the maintenance of a temporary hospital here until a permanent building can be erected were thankful.

SINCE THE HOSPITAL opened 245 persons were admitted to the hospital, according to Miss Anna O'Grady, administratrix. She added that of that figure, 43 people underwent major operation, 106 minor operations and quite

Extra Precautions Will Be Taken to Prevent Forest Fires During Deer Season Which Starts Next Monday

On September 23, the opening of deer season, a great many hunters will enter the San Bernardino National Forest to try their luck at getting a buck. Supervisor Peterson reports that all San Bernardino National Forest personnel are conducting a special campaign in an effort to make your hunting trip a safe and successful one.

Supervisor Peterson also states that from all indications the forest will be very dry and in an effort to prevent fires he asks not only that each hunter be careful not to start a fire but that he sees to it that everyone he comes in contact with is careful also.

The main precautionary measures to follow are:

- No smoking except in prepared campgrounds, places of habitation or special posted smoking areas.
- Secure a campfire permit before building any fires on federal forest lands, including fires in stoves burning any kind of fuel and stoves in auto trailers. No open fires are permitted on the San Bernardino Forest except after securing a special campfire permit.
- Do not enter areas closed to public use. These are all posted, so watch for signs.
- If in doubt as to closed areas or any regulations inquire of patrolmen, checking stations, or at any Forest Service station. There will be patrolmen in all hunting areas.
- Do not shoot along highways or roads or in or near inhabited areas.
- Checking stations will be maintained at Clanton Ranger station which is in Riverside county, eight miles east of Hemet on the Pines-to-Palms highway; also at Mill creek station, eight miles east of Redlands. Hunters are requested to register when passing these stations.
- According to Peterson, the sportsmen have given splendid cooperation in fire prevention in the past and with their assistance hope it held to make this hunting season one free from forest fires.

'I Rise To Remark'

By Congressman John Phillips

As I sit down at the typewriter this morning, to write the week's letter, the newspapers are reporting Mr. Paul Porter, the administrator of the OPA, as saying that he is "disillusioned" because of the impending disaster, now apparent as the result of the OPA action of putting ceilings back on meat.

Paul Porter is an affable and well-liked young man, who was a newspaper man, a publicity man for several bureaus and agencies, and in the last campaign, the publicity man for the Democratic party. Just as the late and unlamented Mr. Bowles was the head of one of the nation's most profitable advertising agencies and on that background, without administrative experience, was given one of the most demanding administrative jobs in Washington, with tragic results to the country, so Mr. Porter, following the "elevation" of Bowles, with even less administrative experience, was given his present job, to be the Charlie McCarthy to the Bowles' Bergen. Like the famous 600, his was not to reason why, his was to do and die, and I am not sure whether that word should be spelled with a "d" or with an "l."

There is no reason for surprise on Mr. Porter's part. Everyone in the United States, who knew anything about the meat industry, excepting perhaps the bright young men and women of the OPA, whose jobs were involved, told him what the effect would be of attempting to return ceilings to an industry which was 80 per cent in the black market, before ceilings were removed.

Last spring, when the OPA was discussing reimposing quotas on the smaller slaughters, the industry advisory committee was invited to Washington to give its recommendations. A full day's discussion took place. The committee voted, 60 to 0, AGAINST RETURNING QUOTAS.

The next morning, the OPA announced that quotas would be re-established. Many industries, including agricultural commodities, have had these industry advisory committees. They were authorized by Congress. Most of them have had experiences like the above. The OPA has called them to Washington, with resulting expense and inconvenience, to listen to their recommendations and then to announce an entirely different policy, sometimes to issue policy statements which quite obviously had been prepared BEFORE the committee met. I rise to remark that I do not consider this to be representative government.

So I think I will end this column, this week, with two quotations: "We are in the business," said Mr. Paul Porter, referring to the OPA "of keeping the law of supply and demand from working." I can only say, in the words of one Washington newspaper editor, "It's a good trick, if you can do it."

The other quotation is from Mr. Phil Murray, the president of the CIO. It is from his speech at the Automobile workers convention. "There isn't anyone, or any group," said Mr. Murray modestly, "big enough to do a single solitary damn thing to the CIO. We are more influential and more powerful than at any time in our history." I rise again to remark that this leaves me profoundly unmoved! As my Pennsylvania grandmother would probably have said, do tell? Hasn't he ever heard of the vote? Or of public opinion?

Firemen Make 'Repeat' Runs

Firemen made two "runs" to the home of Mrs. Tillie Burger, 657 Via Miralesta last Tuesday morning. The first alarm came in at 8:20 a.m. when a palm tree on Mrs. Burger's premises was discovered burning.

The second dash by fire fighting equipment occurred when live embers were discovered smoldering on the sun deck of the Burger's residence.

Both fires were completely extinguished the second time. Little damage was reported.

Protection

Water Mains Being Laid on Reservation

Laying of water mains which will tend to relieve a bad sanitation condition and the constant threat of destructive fires on the Indian reservation was started early this week by the Palm Springs Water company.

At the same time William E. Alworth, city manager, announced that fire hydrants in sufficient number and strategically placed will also be installed as soon as certain negotiations can be completed.

Since the war ended traffic deaths have jumped one-third, the National Conservation bureau reports. Traffic accidents now claims 950,000 victims killed or injured each year. These are seldom accidental, the bureau says, most of the accidents that happen are caused by carelessness and doing things without thinking about their consequences.

Schools Open ...

that the peak enrollment there will top 300 this year.

Classrooms are now crowded to capacity and even Dr. Oertel's office is being used for two classes daily. The new six-room building now under construction, will not be ready until the beginning of the second semester.

GREAT INCREASE was shown in all buildings in the Desert district, Miss Finchy revealed in her report of the first week. The figures follow:

	Last Year	This Year
Frances Stevens	248	341
Cahuilla	85	107
Desert Hot Springs	9	39
Cathedral City	30	59
Nellie Coffman	111	136
Total	483	682

GREAT GROWTH at the high school was also shown in a break down of figures by Principal Oertel. The opening day enrollment by classes:

Freshmen	79
Sophomores	71
Juniors	52
Seniors	63

A comparison of opening day figures for the past three years also showed a great growth.

Before Your Eyes
By BILL RASHALL

BEST COOKS are supposed to be men, so it is said, but if you ever want to start an argument that will have no ending, don't start bragging about the spaghetti sauce you say is "out of this world." Such an argument took place at the Dunes the other night and Al Wertheimer had the floor. He made most of those present years so badly for a dish of Italian spaghetti, but not without words of dissension by some of his listeners, that actually mouths began to water. Tuesday the feast took place.

DINNER GUESTS present were: George Zouganiles, Annette Freeman, Pete McCoo, Al and Fran Ligier, Buck Harris, Al and Bette Agazzoni, Rollie and Dodie Dunlap, Rube Miller, Harry Converse and the host who did all the previous talking, Al Wertheimer at whose home the feast took place. All over, the guests were departing and the Greek, George Zouganiles, called Al aside and shoved a sizeable tip into the hand of the host. "Give it to the maid," he ordered. "The sauce and spaghetti were delicious," Wertheimer informed him that the maid did not do the cooking. As a matter of fact there was no maid and despite all he had said about how to prepare the dish, he didn't cook it, the culinary art was performed by Al Agazzoni. Now if that doesn't prove that talking and doing are strangers I'm as wet as a duck in a dry desert wash. It only went to prove that all Wertheimer said about how to cook a good spaghetti sauce proved that Al Agazzoni could really perform because the "Greek" ate most of the food and Rube Miller ran a good photo finish with Al Wertheimer for the place position.

CHARLEY MORRISON, new co-owner of Rogers Stables, will just have to do without the assistance of Frank Bogert as his head wrangler. Following a report in this column recently that Charley would attempt to obtain the services of Bogert to manage Rogers Stables the following letter was received:

"Dear Bill:
"Seems as how you are handling Charley Morrison's deal so I'd better inform you of the facts. You see, I figure to be right busy this winter and for a long time to come on our own Thunderbird Ranch. I don't reckon I can hardly find time to run Rogers Stables too. Thunderbird is going to take about 23 hours a day of my time.

"You might tell Charley, there's a very good man just back in town named Rex Colbert who can do him a right good job. He's a horsey hotel man with plenty of experience. Anyway Bill, Charley may want to go to work at Thunderbird but in any event he can find me out at the ranch if he wants to know any more. Sincerely, Frank Bogert."

OPEN "SPOTS" now operating in the city with the exception of the Colonial House and the Doll House are nearly all under full steam ahead. The Pogo Pogo with dancing and dining room will be open October 3. The Rolly Room is in full swing as is the Luau at the Palm Springs hotel. At that "spot" Ronnie Cornell behind the bar is starting his third season. The Lido will be boasting of spaghetti dinners and other Italian food under the culinary direction of Paul Augustino. Mr. Dees with entertainment to come has kitchen and bar in full sway with David Lyons looking over the operation. Charley Farrell announced that his Racquet Club will be open October 10 and Lee Bering of the Tennis Club is almost set to go after a summer of hard work renovating and enlarging. Judging from crowds now, the Dunes is in for a heavy winter season.

Wait'll the tourists really start coming to town—my, oh, my!

MORE ABOUT ...

that the U.S. Engineers were governed by the letter of the law.

"No one," quoted the Colonel, "under the laws of the land can use government property without paying the government for its use and that applies to the landing and take-off of airplanes."

"What if a pilot has to land in an emergency," he was asked. "In that case human understanding is used," the Colonel explained. "The entire field would then be thrown open. 'Why don't you ask your city government about the matter,' was the final suggestion."

William E. Alworth, city manager, who was by no means happy by events out at the airport, was contacted. Particularly was he asked if there didn't exist in the lease between the government and the city, a clause or stipulation, which would permit civilian flying.

"Yes, there is," declared Alworth. The Desert Sun obtained a copy of this clause—which in fact would show the Colonel that the government was receiving compensation for the use of the field.

PONTIFICAL WORDS, now dulcet, soft and low, hit the Colonel's ears. The clause was read to him verbatim.

Loy Stover, assistant head of surplus facility branch came to the telephone. Yes he agreed, civilian fliers can use the landing strips but only that portion which was leased by the city to the Army. Part of the runways run onto property owned by a private individual.

That part which was leased by the city, comprises the greatest portion of the two runways at the field and each are approximately 4,000 feet in length.

HEAVILY LADEN goliaths of the air are the only type ships that have ever used all of the strips and those used by civilians would not use more than 2500

Escadrille To Open Sept. 28

Sal Henson, manager of the Escadrille, 190 W. Amado Road, near the entrance of the golf course, will open for business September 28. This will be the third season the establishment that features Chinese food will be in operation.

Henson also declared that American dishes will also be on the menu this season and the doors will swing open daily from 5 p.m. to 2 a.m. Entertainment will be furnished from midnight until the closing hour. Last season the Escadrille was a rendezvous for late celebrants who wanted a midnight snack before retiring.

to 3000 feet in either take-offs or landings.

It was a victory for both the city and The Desert Sun but the government bureau in Los Angeles had the last words. The lights over which it does have control, are to be turned off September 20, which will make it necessary for pilots to use the field during daylight hours.

"We'll send a field man down tomorrow," declared Colonel Hunter, "to inform the guards that civilian planes may land on the 4,000 foot portion of the field."

Gordon's Opens For Season With Many Innovations

Gordon's, that popular cafe in the Plaza block next to the Plaza theater, re-opened for the season last Monday and as in previous years, is playing to a full house. Gladys Denton, experienced cafe manager in the Village for several years and sister of Gordon Feekings, owner, is in charge of the establishment. Several innovations conducive to more efficient service to the hungry public have been installed. Gordon's will be open seven days a week from 8 a.m. to midnight.

With dove season now open it is a toss-up whether the hunter pots a bag limit in the brush or be hit by a potted driver on the road home.

New Desert Resort Village Plans Revealed

Village Developer Interested in New Southland Project

Borrego Springs Is Name Chosen for Exclusive Resort

A new resort in the heart of the Borrego desert, historical Southern California oasis, is being planned with a Palm Springs developer as one of those interested in the project.

The resort Villager will build on the historic spot where Capt. Juan Bautista de Anza and Father Garces camped after their trek across Imperial valley, 170 years ago.

NAME OF THE new desert resort will be Borrego Springs and roads have been surveyed, power lines installed and arrangements made for a water supply from Coyote canyon.

Among the prominent Californians interested in the development is Robert Ransom, well known Village realtor, and manager of The Plaza here.

Others sponsoring Borrego Springs are Paul Grafe, member of Six Companies which built Boulder Dam, Fred Marlow, former FHA administrator for California, Lawrence Barker and Fred Johnson, of Los Angeles; A. A. Burnand, San Diego; Harrison Baker, Pasadena, member of the State highway commission; and Robert Ransom of Palm Springs.

NO JAZZ will be permitted in the new resort town, said Ransom today.

"It is our aim to develop Borrego Springs into a community which will preserve the beauty and calm of the desert," he said. "Automobiles will be barred from business thoroughfares. Homes will be on an acre or more."

First units in the new resort will be available by December but purchasers will have to qualify for membership in the Golf club before buying home sites.

AIRPORT WORK has already started and Borrego Springs will have a Class 5 port similar to the local field but not as big. Max Black, airport engineer, is in charge of planning.

Borrego Springs is 100 miles from Palm Springs, 160 miles from Los Angeles and 80 miles from San Diego.

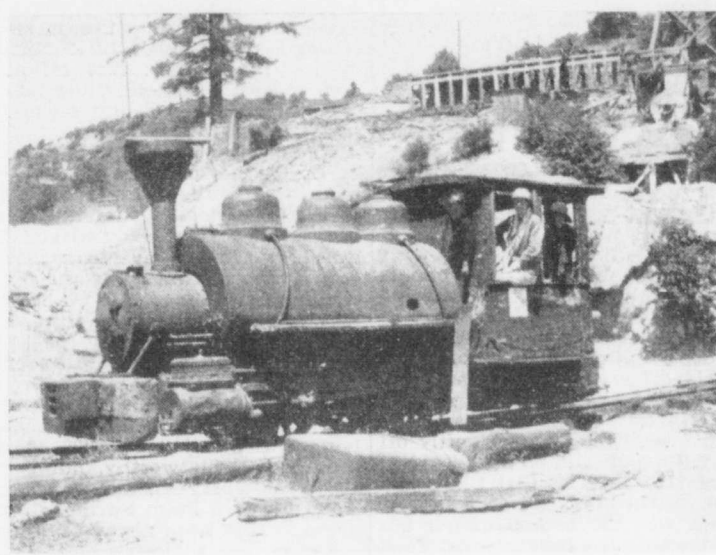

Jack Donohue Now Member of Staff

Jack Donohue, son-in-law of Mrs. Viola Dinsmore of Desert Hot Springs, has completed three years service in the Ninth Air force with the rank of first lieutenant and is the most recent addition to the growing staff of radio station KCMJ, in Palm Springs, according to an announcement this week by Clinton Jones, general manager.

Before joining the service, he worked in radio for two years, most of which time was spent on the staff of KNX, the CBS outlet in Hollywood. While serving in the KNX transcription department, Donohue did extra microphone work at various Los Angeles stations handling many remote broadcasts from well known Hollywood entertainment spots.

As a member of the occupation forces, he did announcing, writing and programming on the American Forces network station in Kassel, Germany. This was, of course, in addition to his regular duties as fighter pilot flying A-20's, B-25's, and P-38 airplanes on reconnaissance work.

His activities at KCMJ will include traffic, announcing, supervision of the musical library and some sales work. At present Jack and his attractive wife, Haroldene, are residing with her mother Mrs. Viola Dinsmore, well known "Little Lady in White" at the latter's Blue Heaven Rancho in Desert Hot Springs.

Ancient Loco Now Rests in Peace at Local Guest Ranch

When J. R. Fouch last week added an old wood-burning locomotive to his La Paz guest ranch, he aroused memories for Jimmy Wood.

Jimmy dove into a trunk and came up with a collection of photographs taken at Lake Arrowhead some years back.

Sure enough, there they were, two pictures of the old wood-burner which had been used when the dam was built in the mountain resort.

The old locomotive came to California almost 100 years ago, and will do duty as a monument to early days at the La Paz.

It arrived in Palm Springs just 96 years after starting active duty in the San Francisco area.

Small World

Villager's Wife Meets Villagers

It's a small world. Sure it is and Ray Hiller, local real estate broker, had more proof of that statement this week.

Mrs. Hiller, member of the Los Angeles public school staff, recently went on a good will tour of Central and South American countries with a group comparing educational methods in this country and in Latin America. They traveled by plane and train.

In Central America Mrs. Hiller, according to a letter to her husband here, ran across an interesting couple and in the course of conversation, Palm Springs was mentioned.

"Palm Springs!" exclaimed the couple in conversation with Mrs. Hiller. "Why, that's where we come from."

They were Mr. and Mrs. Austin G. McManus.

RAINBOW BRIDGE — Part IV

As we continued on down Cliff Canyon, about seven miles on our way to the Bridge, an amusing thing occurred . . . at least it was humorous to the rest of us. Chico's mule, suddenly decided he was tired of carry 160 pounds. He knelt down in a soft sandy stretch and started to roll over. Chico leaped deftly off and the mule ran on ahead, riderless. It was lucky that Chico had not caught his foot in the stirrup. That was the second of our adventures with our mounts: first, Jack's running away with him, and now Chico's trying to sit on him! That it would be my turn next, I was fully convinced.

In a few minutes we had recaptured Romeo, Chico was back in the saddle, and we were on our way again. The canyon had narrowed steadily and was only about fifty feet wide now. Ahead looked like a bare cliff wall. Where were we to go from there? The canyon widened a little, and we soon entered a cross-canyon. This was the beginning of the Redbud Pass I'd read so much about.

ABANDONED HOGAN

Across the canyon floor, to our left, was an abandoned Navaho hogan. It was odd to see one away up here. And on the cliff wall behind it, about head-high on the smooth sandstone, Barry pointed out some old pictographs. A pictograph is a painting on the rock surface, in contrast to a petroglyph, which is scratched in the surface and usually uncolored. These designs, which were discernable even from that distance, were those of mounted riders. They were executed in brilliant orange. I caught myself wondering who had painted them there, and under what circumstances.

A few yards beyond and I began seeing Redbud bushes (Cercis) with its heart-shaped leaves and the still persistent though dried and withered "buds", really the flowers, deep purple-red in color. Would that they had been in full flower when we passed by. It was my first time to see the plant. We found it very common in the next mile or so.

CLOSE IN RAPIDLY

The cliffs closed in rapidly now, and soon we could touch either wall with our hands. In places our boots scraped against the rough rock surface of the sandstone as we passed by. Suddenly, still hemmed in by the sheer cliffs, the trail began to climb abruptly, over 200 feet. This was the Pass itself, famous Redbud Pass. At the top of the rise, we looked back. It was as if we were at the base of a very deep and narrow crack in the rock, looking up at the streak of blue sky far above.

I turned back and looked ahead down the trail. The steep rise we had just ascended, we were about to descend, from 4500 feet down to 4300, still between those narrow converging walls. We were now 9.5 miles from the Lodge, with some 4 yet to go. Another fork in the canyon and we turned left this time, weaving in and out through a crooked route. All the way we were continuing to drop in elevation, slowly but steadily. When we reached the lower end of Bridge Canyon, 11.6 miles from our start, we were at 3900 feet.

SEE GOAL

Our trail skirted around the stream, climbed a few feet above its banks, and went through a gate in a short barbed-wire fence, which Barry closed behind us. Around the next bend and at Chico's shout, I glanced back over my shoulder. Up the canyon behind us was our goal: Rainbow bridge! It was only a momentary view of it and not a good one. We looped on around to the little corral before the Wilson's camp, called Echo Camp. While Buck unpacked the mules, we all hiked toward the bridge, eager to get there before the late afternoon light faded. We had started the trip about 9 a.m. and had arrived about 3:30 that afternoon. The trail had been nearly 13 miles in length.

As we approached the stone arch, it was difficult to comprehend just how huge a structure it is. The whole Capitol building in Washington, D.C., could be placed directly under it and there'd still be room to spare! The arch, which is attached to the cliff wall on the south side of Bridge canyon, to our left as we walked toward it from Echo camp, is situated on a bench above the stream bed, which is sunk below the bench to a depth of 80 feet. From the top of this bench to the under side of the bridge is 187 feet, and the arch is 42 feet thick at this point. This makes an over-all height from the stream bed to the top-side of the bridge just over 300 feet; 309 to be exact. The second tallest natural bridge in the world is 278 feet high, the great Sipapu or Augusta bridge located in Natural Bridges National Monument in southeastern Utah; Rainbow tops it by 30 feet.

FEW SEE WONDER

At the base of the bridge, on the north side of Bridge creek, is a register, protected against the elements in a solidly-made iron box. We all signed in the big book. My number was 4005, Chico's, 4006. It is hard to believe that since the bridge was discovered in 1909, only 4000 people have seen it during the intervening 35 years, just a little more than 100 per year. Not all of these people made the mule trip from the lodge, by any means. Many of them hiked down and back on foot; many more came up Bridge canyon from the Colorado river while on one of the several boat trips up and down that river; and a few had come by horse around the north face of Navaho Mountain from the trading post there. But all sign the register, that's to be sure. I glanced back through the pages, and was surprised to note under number 1158, the name of Guy Haselton, noted California photographer, and with him on that trip, on September 24, 1929, was Fred Payne Clatworthy, number 1160! The world certainly seemed small to see a Palm Springs-it's name in that book ahead of me.

Beside the register-stand was a placard giving the elevation: 3750 feet. A few yards back of us, recessed into the sandstone, was a bronze plaque made by Jo Mora; its words read: "To Commemorate the Piute Nasjah Begay Who First Guided the White Men to Nonnezoshi, August, 1909."

START FOR TOP

Having signed our names, Chico looked silently at me. I knew exactly what he was thinking and nodded "Let's Go!" We continued on down the stream, toward the Colorado river several miles distant. We, however, only went half a mile. Then we dropped down to the stream bed, crossed over the noisy water, and started up the opposite side. Our goal was the top of the bridge, and to reach it, we had to work from downstream around to the back of it, where it joined the cliff. The other free end, jutting out into the canyon, is impossible to scale, being vertical sandstone.

The route that we had chosen was not the best one. We got about half way and I decided to go around to the left a hundred yards to what looked like an easier way. Chico continued on up the original path he had started. How he made it I'll never know. It was a dangerous climb, and he admitted later he was a bit nervous at times. My route was an easier one. I soon chanced upon a series of foot-holes worn in the rock, quite similar to those we had climbed in Monument valley. Midway up these, I suddenly found my legs nervously trembling from the long ride of the day, shaking so much that I could neither go up further nor return! It was an odd experience. I know it was not because of fear of falling, for I was only about ten feet above a ledge; it must have been the strain of the mule ride.

Chico came to my rescue, laughing aloud at my embarrassing predicament. Getting above me, he sat down and stretched one leg down. "Crawl up me," he directed. I lurched forward, caught his ankle, and pulled myself up a few more inches. Then I grabbed his calf, his knee, and then his belt. It was with great relief that I finally stood beside him.

We had reached the top of that portion of the cliff. Now we climbed along it toward the bridge. Detouring back around a deep crevasse, we finally found ourselves on the steep slope leading to the top of the arch. Up this we eagerly scrambled, confident (Please Turn to Page Eleven)

Bill Veith and Family Home Again After Long Jaunt

Mr. and Mrs. William Veith and children, Hazel and Wendell, are back in Palm Springs after a summer vacation automobile tour which covered 11,400 miles and took in 31 states.

The Vieths left, with trailer attached, and proceeded over the southern route to Atlanta, Ga., and then turned north. In Baltimore, Md., they visited with relatives for some time and then went on to New England.

RE-UNION with son Charles and his wife followed at New London, Conn. Charles Veith is stationed there with the coast guard. Granted a ten-day leave, he and his wife accompanied the Veiths on into Canada and across the northern edge of the nation as far as Wisconsin. At Ludington, Mich., the Veith auto and trailer, went aboard a Pere Marquette ferry and sailed Lake Michigan to Milwaukee.

From there they went to Lake Geneva to visit a well known Village winter resident, William Davis.

WESTWARD, HO. from Lake Geneva, they proceeded to Maxwell, Iowa, to visit Mrs. Holly Lash Visel, director of music at the Community church here, on vacation there. Son Charles and wife left them at Lake Geneva to return to duty.

Another stop and more Villagers, was made at Estes Park, Colo., where they visited Faye Brainard, Dr. H. S. Reed and Fred Payne Clatsworthy, all of Palm Springs. The trip home was made via Bryce and Zion National parks.

"The desert certainly looks good," Veith said, "Sunshine after all that rain we experienced in the east."

He's back on the job with the Culver Nichols realty office again.

Why Worry About The Universe? Just Try Bridge Hands

The scientists tell us nothing is lost in Nature, nothing is wasted. Water goes up into steam, steam is absorbed by hot air, when the air gets cold the moisture it contains condense into water, etc., etc.

We are also told that if you leave your motor running in a closed garage and decide to sleep there, your earthly troubles are over. Now here's one you work out for me, I'm tired—Running motors exude the same deadly gas out in the open. A number of motors have been running for about 50 years. The earth is about 25,000 miles in circumference and is enveloped by an atmosphere some 200 miles deep—How long will it take for the deadly gas to fill this atmospheric envelope and make all of us "dead corpses?" We are already jittery.

IF YOU CAN'T work that out, try this: At a bridge table North is declarer at 4 hearts. The hands are as follows:

North, (s) 7, 6, 4; (h) A, J, 10, 7, 5, 2; (d) Q, J; (c) K, J.
East, (s) J, 10, 9, 3; (h) 3; (d) 7, 5, 4, 2; (c) 8, 6, 4, 3.
South, (s) 8, 5, 2; (h) K, 4; (d) A, K, 10, 9; (c) A, Q, 10, 9.
West, (s) A, K, Q; (h) Q, 9, 8, 6; (d) 8, 6, 3; (c) 7, 5, 2.

Play this out before reading any further and see if you can make your contract. East naturally leads the Jack of spades.

AFTER EAST makes the 3 spade tricks, North must make all of the rest. North-South has all the diamonds and clubs—the queen of hearts is the bother. When declarer leads hearts the second time he finds East void and West is left with the queen and nine. How is he going to make the heart lead come through West. He can't do it, so he has to try something else. He has to reduce his trumps to the same number West has by trumping good tricks, leaving a diamond or club entry in dummy's hand. Thus he saves the game. This hand is used by C. H. Goren in his book "Play" to illustrate the Grand Coup, the play that requires you to trump your own tricks in order to throw the lead where you want it. The opportunity to use this play seldom occurs but when it does it surely gives you a grand feeling.

Harold Leland On KCMJ Staff

Newly arrived to the staff of KCMJ, RadiOasis, Palm Springs' own station is Harold Leland who comes to the station from Riverside. Bringing six years radio experience in announcing and engineering, Mr. Leland was formerly associated with stations KPRO in Riverside and KFXM in San Bernardino where he served as announcer and transmitter engineer respectively.

Like many another Villager, Harold is scouting around for a place to live so that Mrs. Leland and their two children can join him in enjoying the delights of desert living. His duties at KCMJ will include announcing and engineering.

DR. AND MRS. H. L. DOLLARD were at Tahoe Tavern, Lake Tahoe, this week for a brief vacation before returning to the Village for the season.

MORE ABOUT . . .

now that we would soon attain the summit. But our anticipation was again short-lived. When we got to the top, we found we had ascended not the bridge, but a steep column of vertical rock, immediately adjacent and adherent to the arch itself. However, to get to the top of the bridge would necessitate a drop of some 15 feet down to its crest. We tested the only route and even Chico agreed it would be very difficult without a rope. It was disappointing to be that close to our goal and not be able to reach it.

NOTE METHOD

From that height we could see how the bridge had been formed. First, the stream had cut down a steep-walled canyon through the sandstone, in a meandering course, much like that of the San Juan at the Goosenecks. After this series of sharp redoubling curves, called Oxbows, had been worn down, a later stream somehow managed to cut straight across the projecting narrow partitions jutting out from the cliff walls, wearing most of them away entirely, but in one case, cutting directly through the center/ making a tunnel. Gradually this opening was enlarged until the present span of 278 feet resulted. The original projecting wall of sandstone must have been quite thin, for the bridge is only 33 feet wide as its highest point.

Regaining the stream bed below, we followed it up until we stood directly beneath the arch, and stared up open-mouthed. It looked almost fragile, brittle, threatening to shatter and collapse at any moment. At our feet was the small but deep pool of cold water in which Pres. Teddie Roosevelt had once bathed.

It was time for dinner now, and we were both famished. So we climbed back up to the trail and returned to Echo camp, a bit weary after the day's events. Tomorrow we would make the return trip. What lay in store for us then?

Episcopal Church Opens Sunday for Another Season

St. Paul's in the Desert, Episcopal church, will open for the new season next Sunday, Sept. 22, the Rev. Robert M. Hogarth, vicar, said today.

Rev. Hogarth returned to the Village this week from a summer spent filling the pulpit at the Church of the Angels, Pasadena.

The sermon next Sunday will be on "The Lilies of the Field," the rector said.

SUNDAY SCHOOL services will start a week from Sunday, Sept. 29, at 9:45 a.m. and Young People's meetings at 7 p.m. on October 6.

"I'm glad to be back with my own 'lilies of the field' in this fair Village with its warmth of human personality as well as warmth of temperature," Rev. Hogarth said.

IN PASADENA he ministered to the Church of the Angels, a beautiful church of Tudor English architecture, set in spacious landscaped grounds where members of the family of the founder and benefactor, Robert Alexander Campbell Johnston, lie sleeping their last sleep in a concrete mausoleum built into the hillside.

"Even today," he said, "the majority of the congregation are of British birth, and the conservative customs and traditions of old England still prevail. The Union Jack has a place of honor near the pulpit. It is all very interesting and intriguing, but there is a certain something it seems to lack, the spaciousness and freedom of spirit, which only the desert can give."

Mr. and Mrs. Munson Return to Village

What Goes On at Rancho Mirage

While we do not have a school here at Rancho Mirage as yet, still school opening last Monday was very interesting and colorful. After the summer vacation the children began collecting in the Plaza early to wait for the bus and to exchange stories about their vacation experiences. The first bus to arrive was a surprise to the most of the kids as it was the first time we have had the Palm Springs school bus come here.

Many of the children hurried over to talk to the driver and about that time the Indian school bus arrived. It was very interesting to watch the children choose the correct bus. We have been a long time in getting the bus from Palm Springs to come down here and now that we have enough students here, including Jimmy Searls, Prexy of the student body at PSHS, they are sending the bus down. Many students between Rancho Mirage and Cathedral City have had to go to the Cathedral City school but with the new bus service only have to go a short distance to take it. By next year, with so many folks coming in, we will fill the whole bus right here.

ALL SUMMER I have been watching Ted Hutchison over on the Plaza putting around with a bunch of tin cans. The other day I walked over to his Rancho Mirage Nursery and here he has for sale Desert Holly and Smoke Trees, plants I have been looking for a long time. He also showed me two different kinds of Palo Verde and some other native desert plants. I thought it was wonderful because these plants do well here and need little summer care. As I was discussing a purchase with Ted in walked Dave Culver who ordered enough desert holly plants for a hedge in front of his new house and asked about some other things, too. Anyway I proudly came away lugging a fine desert holly plant and am going back for more.

The sixteenth of September left us a little short-handed. Chico Reyes, our foreman, celebrated the Mexican Independence day in Los Angeles while the rest of the delegates joined the borrachos in the Coachella celebration. Viva Mexico!

JIM SMITH has moved into his new place and is fixing it up for his wife to join him next month. He hasn't said what he is going to do with the shop. Frank and Betty Toler of Compton have the lot next to the Ralph Piersons and spent this last week-end with them. The "Cattle Queen" of Calaveras county, Mrs. Millie Mitchell, arrived at her house here this week with her daughter, Kathleen. This is Kathleen's first visit and she is charmed with Rancho Mirage and we are equally charmed with Kathleen.

The prize sale of this week and as fine as any we have had this summer is a lot to Hedy—Hedy Lamar? I mean. In the very near future we hope to have Hedy here as a permanent Rancho Mirage.

Cheerio, Mates!

34 Villagers Go To Polls to Name Sanitary Directors

All Villagers who wanted to slake their thirst with something more powerful than H₂O last Monday had to satisfy that desire with nothing more than—water.

Reason? There was an election and a total of 34 votes were cast by all those who were interested in seeing Carl Lykken and Harold Hicks succeed themselves to offices as members of the Palm Springs Sanitary district board. It was learned that the first vote was cast at 7 a.m. and the last vote at 5:15 but according to law, all establishments dispensing liquor had to remain closed from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Harold Hicks received 17 votes and Lykken 16. The area comprising the sanitary district amounts to approximately one and one-half square miles in which three to four thousand voters live.

Quiz Programs Go Under Fire When Listeners Speak Up

Strong arguments against the manner in which audience participation and quiz programs are handled were voiced by Mrs. Harold Murphy and Bob Bennett on the second KCMJ "Speak Up Listener" program broadcast from CBS Hollywood studios last Sunday night.

Expressing their opinions as representing the listener at the urgency of KCMJ in their present campaign to learn just what listeners think of programs on the air, Mr. Bennett and Mrs. Murphy aired their criticisms on various quiz shows and programs in which the studio audiences take part.

IN THEIR OPINION, they pointed out, most programs of this type are aimed more at the studio audience rather than the air audience. They also declared that the manner in which some emcees query the contestants does not put them at ease before the microphone.

Representing radio and answering their questions and arguments was a trio of experts in the audience participation program field. On the "board" were George W. Allen, program director for the entire Columbia Pacific network, Wes Battersea, emcee of the popular CBS-KCMJ "Jack In All Trades" program and Harry Mitchell, CBS-emcee of "Meet the Missus" and "Free For All" shows.

AS ON the previous program, Dick Joy, who with Don McBain is co-owner of KCMJ, acted as moderator, directing the discussion into a definite channel of debate and calling on various contestants from time to time to keep the argument on an even basis.

Next Sunday night, two more Palm Springs KCMJ listeners whose letters are selected will appear on the "Speak Up Listener" program which features the popular radio husband-and-wife team Ozzie and Harriet. The subject under fire will be comedy programs.

He has been in Uncle Sam's uniform for the past year and three months.

Desmonds to Open For New Season in Plaza Tomorrow

Opening earlier than usual because the season is getting away earlier than usual, Desmond's Palm Springs store will be open tomorrow with Robert D. McKenzie as manager. Mr. McKenzie has been with Desmonds for ten years, counting out four years he wore the uniform of Uncle Sam's infantry. He has been a Villager for some time.

Store hours will be from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., he said.

PEACE will have a big effect on the merchandise available this season, McKenzie said. There will be much more available and the variety will be the greatest since pre-war days. Stock has been arriving daily and shelves and racks are rapidly being filled.

THE SAME STAFF which has so efficiently served Desmonds' patrons in the past will be on hand tomorrow. Helen Curren will manage the woman's shop. She has been here four years. Other former staff members on the job tomorrow will be Frank McNamara, Fay Neal, Frances Milne, Barbara Emigh, Grace McDonald.

New members are Neomi Mann, Cap Johnson, Michael Dinneen.

Marian Hohl Will Become Bride at Yuletide Wedding

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Hohl, of Hollywood and Palm Springs, announce the engagement of their daughter Marian to Don Pettijohn of Madison, Wisconsin. Miss Hohl attended school at Palm Springs, and later the University of Southern California, where she was a member of Gamma Phi Beta. The engagement was announced when she passed candy at her sorority house Monday evening, Sept. 16.

Mr. Pettijohn attended the University of Wisconsin before entering the Army Air Corps, in which he served as a first lieutenant, and spent last year at U.S.C. where he was a member of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity. They plan to be married during the Christmas holidays.

Service Clubs of Village to Start Season Next Month

First formal meeting of the Lions club this season will take place October 3, at the Del Tahquitz hotel, according to Harold Hicks, president.

Subsequent meeting of that organization will take place at the Desert Inn when it is opened for the season, Mr. Hicks added.

Harry Harper, president of the Rotary club, said that the first meeting of his organization will take place October 30. However, an informal meeting will take place exclusively for Rotary members October 3 at the Del Tahquitz hotel. Harper also said that at the first regular meeting, possibly two and perhaps three new members may be voted into the organization.

Glenn B. Woodbury Becomes Member Of Fulton's, Inc.

Glenn B. Woodbury, villager of more than a year and a half, became a new member of Fulton's incorporated with the purchase of Marvin M. Wakefield's interest in that concern, according to an announcement by Fred Fulton, president. Woodbury who operated a chain of theatres in Vermont came to Palm Springs with his family while on vacation and fell so deeply in love with Palm Springs they all decided to remain here. Last season he purchased the Sequoia bungalows on South Belardo road but by the time spring rolled around he sold the place to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Darnell. The entire family then made a trip back to Vermont and have only recently returned.

THE NEW MEMBER of Fulton's, it is understood will be an officer in the corporation and it was announced will take an active part in the conduct of the business. The organization at the time of incorporation announced that it would operate a men's store in Santa Barbara and one at Big Bear lake in addition to the one here which also operates a women's apparel shop in conjunction. Clarence Purnell, who has been associated with Fulton Stores since 1945 is vice president of the corporation and will continue in that capacity it was said.

UNDER THE GUIDANCE of Fred Fulton the Palm Springs store has received both national and international recognition as an authority on resort sportswear for both men and women. Last season it numbered among its customers, residents from nearly every state in the union wintering here as well as from abroad.

In making the announcement that Mr. Woodbury was now with the organization Fred Fulton added: "The rapidly growing Fulton organization will be known wherever people of discriminating tastes gather, as it is our aim to not only keep abreast of times with regard to styling and quality, but to lead the field where fine fabrics, beautifully tailored, are sold."

"OUR PROGRAM of nationwide advertising will focus the attention of not only the west coast," declared Fulton, "but the whole country, on Palm Springs as the style center for resort wear."

Wakefield sold his home in Palm Springs last winter, moving to Santa Barbara where he recently constructed a large hotel.

Son Villager Sets New Record In Glider Travel

Mrs. Winifred Archer of Palm Springs got a thrill Tuesday night while listening to a news broadcast.

The commentator announced that her son, Richard H. Johnson, a member of the local N.A.A. chapter, had just broken the glider record, going from Prescott, Ariz., to a point 35 miles east of Aztec, N.M., an airline distance of 327 miles. He was in the air seven and one half hours. The old record was 212 miles.

Young Johnson is on a "bus man's" holiday from his job of piloting Constellations out of San Francisco and is a guest of his brother, David C. Johnson of Prescott who is also a member of the Palm Springs National Aeronautics association chapter.

His brother assisted him on his record flight.

New Theater To Be Open Later, Strebe Reveals

Earl Strebe's new theater now under construction will not be open until the fall of 1947, according to an announcement issued this week.

Originally it was expected that the new show house would have opened its doors during the last half of this season but due to architectural changes, the completion will be delayed. The original plans called for an 84-foot front lobby and this has been reduced to 45 feet. As a result the two stores adjoining the building will have larger space, Strebe said.

The new theater will allow for 1700 patrons to be seated and will in addition be provided for television and ample room for radio broadcasts from the stage.

Reeds Returning Here on Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ted Reed, (he's the Reed of Reed's Radio shop) are expected back in Palm Springs Sunday to spend the season. They have been at Ocean-side for the past few months with Mr. Reed making periodical trips to the Village to look after his business interests here.

"Four months of great weather here, not a bit of rain, just sunshine. But we'll be glad to bask in the eternal sunshine of Palm Springs again," Mrs. Reed wrote The Sun.

Better Babies

First Conference of New Season Tuesday

Palm Springs wants to keep its healthy babies just bursting with health and cheerfulness.

In order that this may be so mothers are asked to bring their well babies—that is infants and children below school age to the first "Well Baby Conference" of the season to be held September 24, 9 a.m. at the health clinic on east Amada road.

In attendance will be the public health nurse, Madge E. Holderman and Dr. Mildred Van Cleave of the county health department. The afternoon conference will be held between the hours of 1 to 2:30 p.m.

Free immunization is offered against small-pox, diphtheria and whooping-cough.

Antonio Vasquez Jr., Completes Navy Course

Antonio Vasquez, Jr., seaman, second class, son of Mrs. Otilia Bermudez of Palm Springs, has completed the course of instruction in the clerical school at Bainbridge, Md.

Vasquez, who entered the naval service April 17, 1946, received his recruit training at San Diego, Calif.

Lloyd Simon Back in Village

Lloyd Simon, Palm Springs enthusiast and spark plug for many affairs of benefit to the Village, was back this week from a vacation spent in New England.

Mrs. Simon and daughter, Rosalyn Lang, are at present in Greenville, N.C., visiting their son, Jacques. They expect to return to the Village within a week or two.

Igloos Aren't Ice Says Visitor From Alaska to Desert

So Eskimos live in Igloos made of solid blocks of ice.

Don't you believe it. Igloos are made of sod and twigs and log cabins are rapidly replacing them, according to Robert McClellan, for years in Alaska, when he visited the A. W. Shore's at their desert home recently. McClellan is an uncle of J. N. Shore, well known desert resident.

WINTER is the best season in Alaska according to the visitors, McClellan said, despite an average of 45 degrees below zero. Travel is easier, there are no mosquitos and there is darkness conducive to sleep. In summer time it's always light and in July and August it's hard to sleep when the sun is shining practically 24 hours.

McClellan is chief of the Alaskan native service and the family has lived there for the past six years. He was accompanied here by Mrs. McClellan and sons, Charles, 16, and Robert, 10. Their home is Kotzebue, Alaska.

COOPERATIVE villages prevail in Alaska, McClellan said. The natives congregate in villages most of which are built on the seacoast. Fishing is the chief occupation in winter, trapping of muskrat and fox and vegetable farming, in summer.

Furs are used for bartering for lumber, coal and oil. The lumber is used to build the cabins which are gradually replacing the sod igloos.

Farming is simple. The Eskimos sow their seed in June, pick up their belongings to go on the summer trapping tour and return in September to reap the unattended crops.

AVIATION is rugged in Alaska. McClellan said he made his inspection trips by the dog sled and airplanes.

"Landing strips? Those bush pilots can land on a davenport," he said.

His pet gripe was the way geography text books described Alaska. Too inaccurate, he said (Ice igloos, for instance.)

Popular Do-Nut Shop Purchased by Two Ex-Soldiers

Two eligible bachelors both ex-soldiers are the new owners-operators of the Do-Nut Shop, 314 N. Palm Canyon Drive.

Charley Springle, who has been operating the shop for two years, announced that the new owners, Phil Lansdale and Bert Windle took over the operation of the establishment September 6.

Phil Lansdale was in the infantry and spent approximately one year in Korea and his partner Windle was with the Air Corps in the south Pacific. The only changes the two plan in their new venture is specialization in meat and apple pies.

As for Springle he declared he was going back to the "states" to do some fishing, namely Kansas City and incidentally the state of Missouri. Accompanying him will be his two sons, Pat, five and one-half months and Mike, four and one-half years of age, and his wife Mary Jane. He plans to return here in about four or five weeks and then settle in Los Angeles where he again intends to enter business.

Summer Jaunt Takes in Alaska

Gladys Denton is back in town and greeting Villagers and tourists at Gordon's after a summer vacation which included six weeks tour of Canada and Alaska.

Her daughter, Marilyn, accompanied her on the trip which took in Canadian resorts as well as Alaska.

Marilyn has entered Flintridge school north of Pasadena for the fall term.

In Village After Tour to Vermont

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Woodbury, 527 Plaza de Arago, and daughter, Lois, have returned to the Village after a summer spent in the New England states, principally in Vermont in their old home town.

They went by motor and on the return trip visited many of the larger cities of the nation as well as scenic national parks.

Miss Woodbury is on the staff of The Desert Sun in charge of the classified department.

Drivers' License Examiner to Take Month's Vacation

Have you looked at your drivers' license lately?

Checked the date when it runs out?

The highway patrol at Indio announced today that, effective October 16, G. Caplinger, examiner, will be here each Wednesday and Thursday to examine drivers and give tests and to examine chauffeurs for licenses. The tests will be given at the El Paseo building. The hours will be from either 9 to 4 or 9:30 to 4:30, the time to be determined later.

Examinations have been given here all summer but for vacation purposes, they terminated yesterday, to be resumed Wednesday, October 16.

Many persons, it was said, have forgotten to examine their cards and as a result, many are driving without the legal license.

Check on it. The date is in the upper left hand corner.

Jo King Becomes Bride of Gate City Man at Highlands

A miscellaneous shower was tendered Miss Jo King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. King, at the home of Mrs. Beulah Sawyer last Wednesday evening. Miss King last night became the bride of John D. Osborn Jr., of San Bernardino at the Highlands Methodist church at 8 o'clock in a double ring ceremony.

Those present at the shower were the Misses Barbara Emigh, Bonni Lou Taylor, Mary Cornman, Candi Hughes, Ann Goldberg, Norma Webb, the Mmes. Elmo Purnell, H. C. Moseley, and Arthur Murphy. Color scheme at the delightful shower was gold and white.

At the ceremonies last night Trudy Sawyer, Palm Springs, attended the bride while Gordon Hall of San Bernardino attended the bridegroom.

Miss Emigh served at the reception which followed the ceremonies.

Desert Produce Sees Busy Year

Louis Beck, resident of Palm Springs for the past few years and an ardent booster for the Village, this week announced that his Desert Produce company, was stepping up its speed to meet the impact of a very busy season.

The Desert Produce company, a wholesale concern, will deliver anywhere to resorts, cafes, night clubs, guest ranches and large ranches and individual homes with chefs, he said.

Artificial water supplies have Colorado the second state in the Union in irrigation, with nearly 4 million acres watered from streams and reservoirs.

Village Painter Back on the Job

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Flynn returned to Palm Springs this week after a vacation spent in the east, Canada and the middle west. They also were at the Rochester, Minn. clinic.

Their two sons, Terry and Jimmie, are now enrolled in Palm Springs high school.

Flynn is known as the Village Painter.

John Wesley, the founder of Wesleyan Methodism, visited the United States in 1725, when he accepted an invitation to speak to the colonists of Georgia.

WAS really on the beam.

WE took his advice and

SURE enough it worked.

THAT we have a better mouse trap

AND that the world is

WEARING a path to our door

IS now an established fact.

THIS season we are

BAITING our trap with

Guy Linton, Well Known Visitor in Village, Succumbs

Guy Linton, wealthy oil industrialist and well known Los Angeles sportsman, and for several years a Palm Springs winter resident, succumbed to a heart attack at his exclusive Los Angeles club recently, friends here were informed this week.

Secretary and treasurer of the Wilshire Oil company and interested in many other southland developments, he was an ardent Palm Springs fan and the desert lured him every chance he had to get away.

A NATIVE SON, he was a member of Al Malaikah Temple, Rotary, the International Foot-print association and several other clubs. He was a graduate of U.S.C. law school as well as a graduate in geology and engineering.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. B. Machris, widow of the late V. A. Machris of the Wilshire Oil company, two sisters, Catherine Machris and Mrs. M. M. Westbrook, a nephew, Robert Francis White, prominent southland socialite and Palm Springs resident.

VACATIONING in the Village but two days before his sudden death, word of his demise shocked his many local friends. He was apparently in good health when here and had made plans to return to Palm Springs again in a few days.

Cahuilla Hotel To Open for New Season October 1

Cahuilla hotel and apartments which has been undergoing complete renovation and redecoration will be ready to receive winter guests October 1, according to W. W. Madison, the new owner-operator. Madison added that new furniture has been installed and the utmost in luxurious comfort has been added.

NO STRANGER in the operation of hotels is Madison. During 30 years of living in and around San Francisco he was assistant manager of the Hotel Oakland for nine years. Later he operated the Dorchester, Victoria and Richelieu hotels in the bay city and spent 12 years in the management of the Occidental and Santa Rosa hotels at Santa Rosa.

In Palm Springs he will be assisted by his wife Nan Madison and he expects to give the best in hotel service to his winter guests. The Cahuilla hotel boasts of 30 rooms and 16 apartments. The apartments are complete in every respect for family life having the most modern kitchens. Madison said that the swimming pool will have heated water.

New Medical Center To Open Next Month

Palm Springs' newest medical clinic will be open and in operation sometime between October 15 and November 1, under the management of Dr. James E. Potter.

The new building now in the final stages of completion is located at 1020 North Palm Canyon drive.

Stag Party, Rodeo Action for Peace, Fund Drive, Talked

Plans for a renewed drive for the American Legion's World Wars Memorial building here, a big rodeo to be held in connection with next spring's Desert Circus, a stag party to be held Oct. 22 and a strong resolution asking that teeth be put into National American Legion steps to promote national safety, featured the meeting Tuesday night of Owen B. Coffman Post at the firehall.

Jerry Sanborn, new commander of the post, presided at the meeting.

WORLD WARS MEMORIAL plans provided the chief topic after reports of various committees were read. Charles St. George, campaign manager of the drive for the World War's Memorial building, said that dates for the new fund campaign would be from Nov. 11, Armistice Day, until Nov. 30. He said that less than one third of the $75,000 goal had been reached.

Discussion of the spring rodeo resulted in the selection of Frank Bogert as chairman of a committee to map the program. Early action was said necessary to fix dates with the American Rodeo association.

STAG PARTY plans were also discussed. The stag will be held on Oct. 22 at Marcos cafe between Banning and Beaumont on

Thrifty Opens For New Season

Mr. and Mrs. Kenny DuBose's Thrifty five and ten, opened Monday of this week for the new season at the corner of Amado road and the Drive.

Emil Knorr, back from more than three years in uniform and with a record of service in North Africa and Italy, will manage the store this year.

George Gannon On Ransom Staff

George D. Gannon, son of Judge A. M. Gannon, prominent winter resident of Palm Springs for the past ten years, has become associated with the Robert Ransom Realty office in the Plaza.

He has just been released from active duty by the Navy after serving four years and advancing through the ranks to the post of Chief Pay Clerk.

Mrs. Gannon, Adelaide, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Whitehorn, now in Beverly Hills, expects to join him here within a few days.

Mrs. Potter, Family, Back From Vacation

Mrs. James E. Potter, wife of Dr. Potter, and her two daughters Mildred and Mabelle have returned to Palm Springs from their summer vacation at Hood's Canal.

Highway 99 and will feature a Spanish dinner. Members of all posts in the vicinity will be invited.

Bogert will meet with the circus committee to discuss rodeo plans and St. George will meet with the World Wars Memorial fund committee, the World Wars Memorial Building committee and the executive committee of the post to discuss drive plans this week.

ACTION to enforce Legion plans was asked in a resolution presented by Col. Bob Ellsworth, member of the local post and chairman of the state department of the National Defense committee.

The resolution cited that there was some complaint that resolutions adopted by the national American Legion were not being carried out and asked that teeth be put into them to insure action. A definite plan of action to insure results from all resolutions adopted at national American Legion meetings, was asked.

Next meeting of the post will be held a week from next Tuesday at the Fiesta house on the Desert Inn grounds.

Business Women Plan Club Here

A group of Palm Springs women will meet at the Desert Inn Coffee shop at breakfast Tuesday morning at 8:15 to form a business women's club.

All interested and who wish to attend are urged to contact Mrs. Jimmie Hume at 6122 for reservations and information.

Local N.A.A. Group To Open Season at La Cita on Tuesday

First fall meeting of the Palm Springs chapter of the National Aeronautics association will be held next Tuesday, Sept. 24, at 7 p.m. at the La Cita, it was announced today by officials of the group.

Probable speaker will be Tony LaVier, Thompson trophy winner and in the recent national air race to Cleveland.

ELECTION of new officers will be a feature of the session. Norman Granger, present president, and Harry Van Gorp, vice president, will not be here during the coming season, it was announced.

Either Harry Harper, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce or William E. Alworth, city manager, will be present to discuss the local airport situation. No landing is permitted there at the present time. (See another column of this issue of The Sun for an official statement on this situation.)

The meeting is open to all interested persons. Members were reminded today that dues are due for the coming season.

The largest production of buckwheat in the United States is in New York state, with Pennsylvania second, Michigan third and Maine fourth.

Cathedral City

By W. R. HILLERY

FRIDAY, THE THIRTEENTH. The monthly meeting of the Riverside County Flood and Water Conservation district was held in the supervisor's room of the court house. It was of more than passing interest to this area that correspondence between the state highway authority and the flood authority indicated the highway department was opposed to any attempt to channelize flood waters across the highway except under the same by means of bridges which the State refuses to build or to contribute to the cost of building. If this decision is final it would mean that Palm Canyon wash at Araby Point would remain the mess it is now for I haven't forgotten that prior to the war at a group meeting on that point a responsible state official said it would cost $1,000,000.00 to build a suitable bridge that would have to extend from Smoke Tree Ranch to the point.

It means that Tahquitz creek would remain as it is now, also Tacheva and that Cathedral City could not obtain the relief it needs so badly. The decision effects Ranch Mirage which is not in the Riverside flood district but in the Coachella district.

DEVELOPMENT of this area is progressing with great strides and the local population would indicate a need for flood control of equal importance with transportation facilities in the way of highways. A coordinated program is needed. Immediately.

We are glad to learn that Mrs. H. E. Colglazier has returned from the Loma Linda hospital and is now at home with a trained nurse in attendance. Mrs. Colglazier is still seriously ill and her many friends are asked not to call until advised by the family.

Paul and Mildred Clark of Sunhaven Court are back in the Village. Paul to remain, while wife Mildred must return to the coast to attend the birth of a grandchild.

EXTENSIVE REMODELING is under way by Candy Hites and by the Chuckwagon and a new addition to S. D. Arners property is nearing completion. Mrs. Eva M. Kelly is making many changes in the Desert Cafe preparatory to opening.

Mrs. Ann Reilly, long time desert resident is back for the season. No use saying for the winter for the season now starts with early September and runs well into June. The N. G. Persson family after summering at their old home in St. Paul are again occupying their desert home.

The parting word. Don't fail to register. Either in my office or if more convenient you may register in Palm Springs for the Cathedral City precinct if this is your home.

Editor's note—Due to a last minute shortage of space this column by W. R. Hillery was unfortunately omitted last week.

The water supply of Cathedral City was this week made secure when a contract for another well was let. The new well will be south of the present one and at about the same depth. While the present well could supply more than twice the present population, the new well will be a standby. Also authorized by the directors of the Cathedral City Water company a recent meeting was the laying of a number of larger capacity lateral mains.

SANITATION PROBLEM

Advance notice has been received that a real problem of handling the sanitation situation here will be deposited in our community lap at an early date. The officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce will need the cooperation of all local organizations to solve the problem.

After a valiant fight and many rushed trips to the hospitals, W. E. Kelley passed away at Sawtelle September seventh, and we understand that the funeral was to have been held the following Wednesday, which was September eleventh. Mr. Kelley was a World War I veteran and with Mrs. Kelley, lived many years in Montrose, where he was in the upholstery business. With his failing health, they moved to Cathedral City several years ago. In addition to his widow, Mr. Kelley is survived by their one son, who is carrying on his father's business in Montrose. The community sympathy goes to Mrs. Kelley and her son.

COL. PERRY IN NEW YORK

Col. Chas. J. Perry writes that he is now stationed in New York and his duties correspond to those of a district attorney in the prosecution of army criminal cases. For many years before the war, while in the officers' reserve, Col. Perry was an attorney in Boston.

Claude and Edna Cobb returned this week from a prolonged vacation that took them back and to the Pacific northwest, including British Columbia. While they found the weather warm on the desert to return to, they also experienced warm days in the north.

The transportation facilities of the Palm Springs high school was offered Rancho Mirage and surrounding territory this year, providing there were sufficient students to warrant the extension of the bus trip.

The school district boundaries on the east is the section line on the eastern edge of Rancho Mirage. The boundary should include the area that would take in Palm Village, Randall Henderson's new project.

CATHEDRALITES RETURN

J. Eldo Mhoon and his son, R. G. Mhoon, who were associated last year in construction work, have returned for another season's activity. J. Eldo went fishing out on the Juan deFuca Straits for part of the summer and R. S. went to Klamath Falls for the same purpose. I wouldn't tell all I heard but I can say he is a good contractor.

C. C. "Buck" Harris is back after spending some time in the Puget Sound and Montana country. John O. and Mrs. Clark drove in this week after a summer on the coast. E. A. and Mrs. Sprague will resume the operation of the beauty parlor while E. A. will operate the Bluehaven Court.

NEW 10 UNIT COURT

O'Dell Brothers, who own property on Encelia Lane and the highway in our Village, had contractors figuring this week on a ten unit court. Good! The more the merrier! Christina Lillian, who purchased the Marion Kellar property that adjoins her other holdings, is preparing for a busy season after some time spent on the Russian River. Lewis Duncan and Mrs. Duncan came back after an extended trip east. Mr. Duncan, who came here for his health, received a slight setback. When he was almost home he wrenched some chest muscles while visiting in the north portion of California.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Waller, after spending the summer at their old home in Albany, Oregon, have disposed of their holdings there and have cut loose from old ties to make their full time home on the desert. In addition to the operation of their trailer park, they will make their home in the adobe ranch property purchased from the Grace Early estate. Bill and Mrs. Sanders and daughter, after several months at San Clemente, are back for another season.

WEINGARTNER WEDDING

We understand that on the seventh of this month the daughter of Mrs. Lawrence L. Weingartner was married. The Weingartners came here last year and are in the manufacturing business in Cathedral City.

This coming November we have a general election that is to be very important and if any resident of Cathedral City or this area is eligible to vote, your opportunity to register here will close on September 25. County Clerk G. A. Pequegnat has asked me to help in this registration and in addition, the time that I am in my office, I will try to be in there all day Wednesday, the 25.

James and Mary Wolseth with mother Ritchie came back this week from a summer spent in the Puget Sound country. The

Plans for Western Week Roll Along At a Merry Clip

Plans for Western Week, October 21 to 24 are rolling along at a merry clip.

Wednesday Wal Spalding announced that stock for the night rodeo will be furnished by Carlton Grimes of the San Bernardino Grimes' stock farm. This stock Spalding said has been used in the best shows of that type in the southwest.

FIELD LIGHTS for the night affair has also been solved. Otto K. Olsen, the firm that lights Hollywood up at various motion picture premieres. Both the rodeo and the "sun-down" parade will be conducted under the direction of Phil Delano.

Jack Bellar, chairman of the Men's Wear Manufacturers of California stated that the entertainment for the convention that will take place at the same time as Western Week will be of the best type. A male band, strolling minstrels will be featured. The latter entertainers will stroll through the streets of Palm Springs singing their songs during the convention.

SPALDING DECLARED many riding clubs have already written in asking if they can participate in the parade. He also added that any Villager who can ride a horse is asked to take part in the rider's division of the "sun-down" street spectacle.

usual seasonal work at the Desert Lodge is now in progress and will keep the family working overtime.

Ernest and Ella Dorn, owners of the Arch Court, are also in the northwest as well as in several other states and had a wonderful time visiting old friends as well as new. They are glad to be back on the desert although Ernie says they just didn't get all the visiting done that they would have liked.

DR. AND MRS. CLARENCE WOODMANSEE and their daughters, Bonnie and Fay, have returned to their home on Tamarisk road after a summer spent in Pennsylvania.

More Than Thirty Riders Will Join In Four-Day Jaunt

Invitations to join in the four-day ride of the Palm Springs Horsemen's association Oct. 3 through 6, were mailed this week by President Raymond Cree to more than 35 riders in Southern California whose names had been turned in by members of the association.

Reservations for the ride meanwhile were being received from members of the association and registration thus far indicates that more than 30 will enjoy the four-day trip which will include stops at Bunker and Lee ranches near the Pines-to-Palms highway, Tahquitz valley, Idyllwild and Herkey creek.

THE RIDE will start at Bunker's ranch about noon on October 3 and will end there about noon Sunday, with Thursday night to be spent at Lee's ranch, Friday night at Idyllwild after the ride through Tahquitz valley, and Saturday night at Herkey creek.

Arrangements have been fully completed for the serving of excellent fare on the four-day ride, Phil Delano, a member of the food committee, reported to the board of directors of the association at a meeting Tuesday. Plenty of horses will be available to riders both from the stables in Palm Springs and from Trav Rogers at Idyllwild, he reported.

Whitehorns Plan Tour of North

Mr. and Mrs. James Whitehorn will leave the Village next Monday for the north on a tour in the interests of Fred Howser's campaign for attorney general.

Their trip will take them up to Humboldt county via the coast and southward again via the valley route.

They expect to be gone about ten days.

Besides ranking near the top in agricultural production Kansas boasts a mineral production consisting principally of petroleum, zinc, lead, salt, stone, cement, clay products, natural gas gasoline, sand, gravel, and gypsum.

Doing the Village

By MOYA HENDERSON

September 16th, and, like the pied-piper of Hamelin, the school bells called all the children back to the fold and for a couple of hours the streets were quiet. It was a big day in our family with Junior off to kindergarten and started on his long scholastic career. It held many memories for us as Pappy Joe started in at the same little red school house many long years ago and Mammy started her teaching in Palm Springs there. In Joe's class was little Ray Salazar who's daddy Ray Salazar also started school there in the same class as Joe's father.

While everyone else is flocking back, Dottie Stien took off, on a vacation of two weeks, to the La Jolla Beach club. She will be joined by her daughter and son-in-law Mary Helen and Alan Thompson. Pop Gorham got off on that Georgia trip via the S.P. after deciding it would be more of a rest not to drive.

HOSTESSES Wednesday night were Mrs. Beulah Sawyer and her Trudy, at a bridal shower in honor of Jo King. Guests were all former Palm Springs schoolmates of Jo's. She was married to John D. Osborn Jr. on Thursday evening in the Highland Methodist church of that city. Imagine forgetting anything important as your birthday. Gordon Young forgot his last Sunday and so did the rest of the family until sister Ruth DuBose came over to wish him many happy returns. As the electricity went off about that time Neva couldn't very well whip him up a cake so Gordy threw a few coals in the barbecue and broiled himself a big juicy steak. After all who wants cake when you can have steak?

Jimmie Cooper is practically his twin as his birthday fell on Monday. He's putting the finishing touches on that Idyllwild cabin and hopes to be back in the Village in a couple of weeks. Tex and Esther Driscoll gathered up a party of about fourteen friends Wednesday night and headed for the Sans Souci to celebrate their thirteenth wedding anniversary.

ADMITTANCE to the halls of higher learning has been a struggle this year but most of the lads and lassies made the grade. Carol Burket leaves Friday for Pomona and Sally Robinson will start her second year at that institution. Bill Carey, Gillar Boyd and Ann St. Clair are entering City college in Los Angeles. DeLorse Roth, just returned from an extensive tour of the U.S. and Canada, has her application in for the same school. John Wilson, John Klug and Ralph Galzerano are now students at Chaffey junior college while Bill Foster chose San Bernardino. Julie Martineau has taken up her residence at Hershey hall on the U.C.L.A. campus and from the east we hear that Joanne Hokey is a freshman at Alma college but hopes to transfer to Michigan next year. Joyce Maloof and Erica Orth found living accommodations put a damper on their college careers but both hope things will ease up by the spring semester.

ABOUT THE VILLAGE—The Palm Springs Horsemen's association met at La Cita Tuesday to complete plans for their forthcoming pack trip. Ben Chaffey and Nicky Nichols looking very tan after their famous ride from Encinitas to Bunker's ranch. Babs Neel back in town after completing a commercial course at Woodbury's and looking very efficient in Charlie Mathew's new office. Major Robert Ransom and Ernie Dunlevie sporting gorgeous new cars along the drive. Carl Lykken down from Idyllwild to attend various and sundry meetings. Mrs. Theodore Robinson recently returned from Missouri and out in search of meat at the markets. Red Wolf back at the Safeway after a long term in the Army just as busy looking for meat to sell to the willing customers. Ruth Roberson back in the Village with an enviable tan after a summer at Balboa. Bob Chambers trying to get time from planning other people's houses to build his own. Everyone in general busy getting the season off to a bigger and better start.

MORE ABOUT . . .

precedent for the de-control measure in Palm Springs and other winter resorts.

CREDIT was given by chamber of commerce officials for the new OPA decision to Earl Coffman, member of the Desert Inn and chairman of the resort committee of the California Hotel association. He has collaborated with the hotel association officials in their negotiations with OPA officials, and also made a personal trip to Washington last year. During the past year the Hotel and Apartment House committee of the chamber of commerce has carried on the fight for decontrol here, the chamber leaders meeting with OPA investigators as late as August to insist upon removal of rent control from the winter resort properties.

Valuable assistance was given Robinson and Coffman by Ward Cox, regional rent control director for the Pacific coast, who has concurred in the belief that properties rented for no more than eight months a year, and particularly those rented to tourists and vacationers who come to California from throughout the country, should not be under rent restrictions.

IMMEDIATE EFFECT of the ruling in Palm Springs will be a slight adjustment of rates in both hotels and apartment courts where the prices were frozen unfairly low and where advances are necessary to meet sharply increased operating costs. However, the increases will be comparatively low, averaging about 15 per cent, a survey by the chamber of commerce shows. American plan hotels, such as Desert Inn, The Oasis, Deepwell Guest Ranch and others, have had the added problem of meeting sharply increased food prices in addition to the cost of operating the sleeping accommodations.

General cooperation of all establishments in holding increases to the minimum to prevent "run-away" rates that would unfavorably affect Palm Springs reputation throughout the country, is to be sought by strong committees of the chamber of commerce representing the hotel and apartment court owners.

Pittman is Named New Chairman of County Supervisors

Walter V. Pittman, Riverside, representative of the third district on the county board of supervisors, was elected chairman of the board after Robert Dillon of Beaumont, representative of this district, resigned. Mr. Dillon, chairman for a year and nine months, gave poor health and press of personal business as his reason for stepping out of the chairmanship.

At the same meeting Supervisor Clarence A. Steves of Corona resigned as a member of the board. He plans to move out of the county.

The Alamo, located at San Antonio, Texas, was formerly a fort. Originally it was a mission house erected by the Franciscan Fathers in 1722.
